Arch Allies

Arch Allies

About

Why settle for one tribute band when you can see the classic three! Journey, Styx & REO. Be part of an epic night of rock with the greatest hits of these three high-demand bands.

Gabe Jacobs is the singing sensation that Arch Allies found to recreate the extraordinary vocalists in these three tributes. Coming from bands like Transit Authority and Kickstart, Arch Allies is a band that really showcases the incredible range of this fabulous talent.

Kevin Patrick Todd is a veteran in the rock and roll world, beginning in his first band at age eleven. Known on stage as The Disaster Master, his love for playing guitar can immediately be recognized as he strums the tunes he not only plays, but feels from within. Over 30 years of playing in bands, he has become one of the top guitarists in the Metro area.

"Brandon “Chico” D’Agostino has been playing piano since he was only 5 years old. He was mostly self taught until the age of 14 when he became an organist for his home church and their sister church. At the age of 18 he left Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania to pursue music and moved to St. Paul, MN where he studied keyboard performance and theory at McNally/ Smith College of Music. After 2 ½ years he graduated and joined an original band that paid their dues on the road. In 2008, he started his very first classic rock cover band called Big In Japan which also led him to start a similar project called StoneWashed. After 3 ½ years of being absorbed into the classic rock genre, Brandon received an opportunity that would later lead him to become a member of Arch Allies. Brandon’s long lasting love of classic rock and ambition to make his keyboards sound just like the recordings he loves,has driven him to share his love of music with anyone who is inspired to listen. Cheers to his Journey through the Styx in his REO Speedwagon!"

Steve has been playing drums since he was 13. His influences growing up were your typical heavy metal bands: Van Halen, Judas Priest, Kiss, and, Iron Maiden, etc. As the years went by, influences changed and so did styles of music. Steve has done original music most of his playing career up until the last couple bands he has worked with. Steve has performed with local band Conditioned Response and most recently with Decibel.
